9.	Will anonymous responses be included? No. Each responder will have to provide their name, address and postcode to be included.
10.	How are town councils funded? Along with parish and community councils, town councils are funded through a sum of money called a 'precept' – this is a separate charge which is added to and collected along with your existing council tax. The parish, town or community council will decide what it will need for the coming year depending on what services and facilities are needed by the local community. Parish and town councils can also apply for grants and loans. In order to provide services a town council can raise funds through a precept or additional charge applied to Council Tax. The introduction of a town council will cost additional money to cover its running costs and the services the town council chooses to provide.
11.	How much does each option cost me as a tax payer? Based on current costs, if the decision was made for no change, Bexhill households would continue to pay 87p a year to fund the Charter Trustees and £36.89 a year towards Bexhill Special Expenses. The contribution to Bexhill Special Expenses would continue to fund the following services

	specific to Bexhill: Bexhill Parks, Bexhill Allotments; Christmas Lighting; Bexhill Museum; Bus Shelters and the Bexhill Town Forum. If the decision was made to introduce a Town Council, Council Tax payers in Bexhill would pay approximately £59.87 a year towards Bexhill affairs, representing a Council Tax increase of £22.11 in the first year (based on a band D property). This equates to £4.99 per month or £1.15 per week. Should you be entitled to maximum council tax relief, these figures would reduce by 80% equating to £11.97 per year, £1 per month or 23p per week. The costs for a town council are approximate and based on the town council deciding to take over the provision and maintenance of: parks, play areas, sports pitches, public toilets, Christmas lights, museums, festivals and cultural events, allotments, litter bins and grit bins. None of this is confirmed and would be a decision for the town council to make if introduced.
12.	Will Rother District Council and the Bexhill-on-Sea District Councillors still exist if there is a Bexhill Town Council? Yes. There would be three levels of local government in Bexhill-on-Sea – the same as all rural towns and parishes across the district.
13.	Will a Bexhill Town Council be able to make decisions for Bexhill-on-Sea? A Bexhill Town Council will be able to make decisions about services that have been devolved to it. The town council may add other additional services it wants to provide for the residents of Bexhill-on-Sea. Rother District Council would continue to provide and make decisions about the remaining services to the residents of Bexhill-on-Sea, including responsibility for local planning decisions, licensing, waste collection etc. As a statutory consultee for planning decisions, the town council's opinions are taken seriously by the district council planning committee. The town council would also be able to influence decisions that affect Bexhill by representing the views of Bexhill residents to Rother District Council.
14.	What will happen to the Bexhill Town Forum if a town council is created? Currently, Rother District Council provides funding to the Bexhill Town Forum, in the absence of a town council. The funding provided by Rother District Council to the town forum would cease. It would be a matter for the new Bexhill Town Council to consider whether they wished to continue to fund the Bexhill Town Forum.
15.	What is a town council? A town council is an elected body made up of local people representing the interests of their community. The creation of a new town council within Bexhill-on-Sea would be in addition to and not instead of Rother District Council. Members currently elected to Rother District Council would be able to stand for election to a town council created within Bexhill-on-Sea.

16.	What does a town council do? Parish, town and community councils are the same in terms of their powers and responsibilities, but a town council also elects a Town Mayor. They are democratically elected bodies that have the power to do numerous things, including providing allotments, bus shelters, supporting local crime initiatives and local highway matters such as street lighting and maintenance of roadside verges. They can be involved in provision of community transport schemes, sport and recreation facilities, and tourism. They can provide a focus for representing local issues and identity and are also consulted in planning applications in their area. Any town council created for Bexhill as a result of this community governance review would work with Rother District Council to agree which services it would like to deliver. A town council does not replace the district council. Rother District Council would have to meet most of the costs of establishing a town council. The town council itself would then be responsible for meeting all its expenditure, including the cost of premises, staffing and providing services.
17.	How many town councillors would there be? It is being recommended that a Bexhill Town Council should have 18 members across the current 9 Bexhill district council wards. It is possible for the same people to be elected to the district council and a parish, town or community council.
19.	Will the community governance review change Rother District Council electoral wards? No. District ward boundaries are reviewed by the Local Government Boundary Commission for England (LGBCE). This community governance review does not have the power to change any district ward boundaries.
20.	Are town councillors paid an allowance? Parish and town councillors are not usually paid an allowance but may incur costs which can be reimbursed. Whether the town councillors are paid an allowance will be for the town council to decide if established.
21.	Who are the Bexhill Charter Trustees? The Bexhill Charter Trustees comprise all 18 Rother district councillors who represent the wards in Bexhill. Once elected to Rother, they automatically become a Charter Trustee.

	The role of the Trustees is purely ceremonial. They elect a Mayor and Deputy Mayor each May and safeguard the traditions of the former Borough of Bexhill. They maintain the civic regalia and the "Town Plate", which is a collection of gifts and artefacts that were donated to the town during its days as a borough. The trustees meet formally on four occasions each year, they receive reports from the mayor and clerk, and they set an annual budget which covers the running cost of the trustees. The cost of the trustees is paid for solely by the residents of Bexhill, and the annual cost works out at 87pxx per household. The Mayor of Bexhill represents the Charter Trustees at numerous functions each year (sometimes as many as 250) both within and outside of the town of Bexhill. Whilst neither he/she, nor the Charter Trustees themselves have any "executive powers", the Mayor is seen as an extremely important person within the locality and brings a great sense of civic pride to all events which he/she attends.
22.	Who can undertake a community governance review? Since 13 February 2008 all principal councils have had responsibility for undertaking community governance reviews and have been able to decide whether to action the recommendations made in those reviews. In making that decision, they will need to take account of the views of local people. Principal councils are also required to have regard to the guidance on undertaking community governance reviews published jointly by the Department for Communities and Local Government (DCLG) and the Local Government Boundary Commission for England (LGBCE). This document can be found at the following link: http://www.lgbce.org.uk/data/assets/pdf_file/0019/10387/community-governance-review-guidance.pdf
23.	What must Rother District Council take into account when undertaking a community governance review? Rother District Council is required to take into account: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ the impact of existing community governance arrangements on community cohesion; and ➤ the size, population and boundaries of any local community or proposed parish or town council. In carrying out a Community Governance Review, Rother District Council must also consider the wider picture of community governance. This includes taking account of well-established forms of community governance such as local residents' associations and community forums. These can be considered as either alternatives to or stages towards establishing parish or town councils. Guidance does, however, indicate that parish and town councils are set apart from these other kinds of governance by the fact that they are a democratically elected level of local government and can raise a precept, set a budget and possess specific powers.

	The guidance published jointly by the DCLG and the LGBCE specifically refers to Charter Trustee areas, such as Bexhill-on-Sea and states: “Proposals to create a parish or parish council covering all or part of a charter trustee area need to be judged in particular against the following considerations: a) the effect on the historic cohesiveness of the area; and b) what are the other community interests in the area? Is there a demonstrable sense of community identity encompassing the charter trustee area? Are there smaller areas within it which have a demonstrable community identity and which would be viable as administrative units? These issues need to be taken into account in those areas with certain cities or boroughs which will be affected by any consequent reorganisation from the structural and boundary changes in the 2007 Act.”
24.	What are the criteria by which options for the future will be judged? Government guidance indicates when undertaking such a review that criteria include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ a sense of civic pride and civic values; ➤ a strong, inclusive community and voluntary sector; ➤ a sense of place - with a positive feeling for people and local distinctiveness; ➤ effective engagement with the local community at neighbourhood level ➤ strong leadership; ➤ the ability of local authorities to deliver quality services economically and efficiently; and an area that is of a size that is viable as an administrative unit of local government.
25.	Who will Rother District Council consult with? Before making any recommendations or publishing final proposals, the council will take full account of the views of local people. The council will comply with the statutory consultative requirements by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ consulting local government electors within the area under review; ➤ consulting any other person or body (including a local authority) which appears to the Council to have an interest in the community governance review (e.g. East Sussex County Council and parish and town councils across the district); and ➤ take into account any views received in connection with the community governance review.
26.	How will Rother District Council consult? In view of the extensive consultation exercise in 2017, the council is

	undertaking a light-touch consultation. The Council will use a range of consultation methods including an on-line questionnaire, letters and emails, a leaflet drop to all Bexhill-on-Sea residents, direct invitation, media releases, elected Members, posters and leaflets distributed across Bexhill-on-Sea and social media.
27.	When will I be able to respond to the review? There is one chance for the public to contribute to the review. Consultation on the proposal to introduce a town council for Bexhill-on-Sea will take place between 3 February to 13 March 2020.
28.	Can the public come along and listen to the debates? Yes. Meetings of the Community Governance Review Steering Group are open to the public.
29.	Why do some areas of Rother District Council have a parish or town council, but others do not? The answer is largely historical. Prior to the local government reorganisation in 1974 there was a Bexhill Borough Council. When Rother District Council was created it became part of the larger district council and the Bexhill Charter Trustees were established. Other local councils in the area retained their status as town councils, for example Battle and Rye.
30.	Why is there not a referendum on this matter? Referendums come at considerable cost, which would have to be funded by the Council Tax payer; estimated costs for a referendum in Bexhill-on-Sea are in the region of £40,000. With the exception of a referendum on governance arrangements of the district council itself (mayors, cabinets and committee systems), no power is available to local electors either to force their local authority to hold a referendum, or to oblige it to take any particular action following the result of a referendum. In accordance with legislation Rother District Council is able to determine the outcome of the Community Governance Review, without the need for a referendum.
